Report made 8/15/73

[redacted] b7D

Informant on 8/1/73, stated he heard from several sources that SAM BATTAGLIA will be paroled in less than a year. [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

Informant stated years ago before BATTAGLIA was sent to prison, he made a number of trips to the "farm" [redacted]

Informant determined the present occupant at the farm is [redacted]

Informant stated he learned from several sources the owner now is [redacted] spends very little time on this farm as does [redacted] In informant's opinion, [redacted] is "holding this property" for BATTAGLIA, and some arrangement had been made to turn the property back to BATTAGLIA on his release.

[redacted] b7D

Concerning [redacted], informant stated the best he can recall is that [redacted] who is about the same age as SAM BATTAGLIA, grew up on the near west side of Chicago. He along with other "Italians" in this area [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

Informant recalled [redacted] None were known by this source to be LCN Members, but several were closely associated with LCN Members.

Informant stated [redacted]

Informant [redacted] BOBBY DORE (ROCCO SALVATORE) at the farm whenever "TEETS" was there. Next to BATTAGLIA, DORE was the most important figure in the local LCN set up. DORE is a smart operator and capable compared to another close associate of BATTAGLIA, [redacted]

[redacted] b7D

DORE now lives in semi-retirement waiting for the return of BATTAGLIA. [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

Informant stated [redacted]

DORE now lives well at his residence near Austin and North Avenue. No doubt he communicates regularly with "TEETS", and once BATTAGLIA returns to the street, DORE again will be restored to a position of importance.

Concerning [redacted] informant stated he heard [redacted] will be confined for a long time. [redacted]

b7D

Informant stated there was no doubt SAM BATTAGLIA will assume a position of importance in the LCN after his release. Some adjustments will be made, but right now, no one wants to be "Top Man" and become a target of Uncle Sam.

On September 11, 1973, informant advised that the death of SAM BATTAGLIA caught a number of "hoods" by surprise. About the only ones who realized SAM was in critical condition were the BATTAGLIA relatives, ROCCO SALVATORE and for certain ACCARDO and AIUPPA.

Informant reiterated the fact that SAM's death definitely ended any chance of BOBBY DOVE making any headway in the "outfit". Apparently DOVE is not hurting any financially and has made some money in real estate in recent years. DOVE continues to reside in Elmwood Park and for some time now has discontinued his old habit of hanging out at various "outfit" places in Cicero and Melrose Park.

Informant stated SAM's wake was attended by most of the "Top Hoods" but the funeral was a private session held at the Mont Claire Funeral Home and attended by the family and very close friends.

This source stated that the gap left in the "outfit" by the deaths of FIFI BUCCIERI and SAM BATTAGLIA is going to be hard to fill. Any number of crime syndicate figures believe they are capable of filling either vacancy. But the decision will be made by TONY ACCARDO, AIUPPA, NICOLETTI, et al, who are recognized now by the Chicago area "outfit" as still their leaders. GUS ALEX will be contacted and such senior mafia members as GUIDO DE CHIARO and LEO MANFREDI will also be consulted.

Whoever is selected will get the nod from ACCARDO and there will be no argument although there is bound to be some resentment from the young ambitious guys who are passed over.

Informant stated in the next few months he anticipates problems arising that might lead to some violence. For one thing, the powers that rule now - ACCARDO and AIUPPA, still oppose violence. Some of the older and most of the younger element are for knocking over anyone in their way. Presently there is much dissatisfaction with the young guys. They want to make money and get started in the rackets with the full support of the senior members. The young guys need the political connection of the other members and need their backing. However, at the present time no one is making any moves to keep the young "hoods" interested. This is now where the problem lies and so far informant stated he can see no answer.

Source advised on 9/28/73 that Rocco Salvatore, 3032 Boyle Terrace, River Grove, frequents Royal Oak Restaurant, 6421 North Avenue, Oak Park. Salvatore worked for Sam Battaglia before Battaglia's imprisonment. When the U.S. Gov't took over the major part of Battaglia's form they left him a small portion. Salvatore was taking care of the small portion which was being used to raise funds. When Battaglia went to prison Salvatore lost status in the outfit. ROCCO SALVATORE

Criminal History

ROCCO SALVATORE, an LCN member, was born on May 27, 1910, in Chicago, Illinois. Intelligence contained in the files of the Chicago office indicates that when SAM "TEET"S BATTAGLIA, former boss of the Chicago LCN, was alive, SALVATORE was his bodyguard, courier, and chauffeur. SALVATORE was identified as a member of the LCN by [redacted] and [redacted] Intelligence obtained from the Chicago Police Department indicated that SALVATORE was BATTAGLIA's brother-in-law. b7D

In a 1959 Chicago Tribune article, there appeared a photograph of [redacted] JOSEPH GAGLIANO, WILLIAM MESSINO, both LCN members, and SALVATORE. The article revealed that all worked for a company accused in a $75,000 a year shakedown operation of juke box operators. No information appears in SALVATORE's file as to the outcome of this matter. b6 b7C

During October, 1966, [redacted] advised that [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

On an unknown date, but prior to February, 1965, information was received from the Illinois State Police that SALVATORE was involved in a call girl service and that he had girls operating in a place called "Four Wheels" in Elgin. One of the girls who worked for SALVATORE in his operation was being investigated by the state police until her murder. Her murder occurred the night before she was to leave the Chicago area for Las Vegas. Nothing further in connection with this murder was located during preparation of SALVATORE's profile.

Arrest Record

Contributor	Name	Date	Charge	Disposition
Police Department Chicago, Illinois	ROCCO SALVATORE PF 12-23-60	12/23/60	Inv. of Murder
Chief Investigator, State's Attorney's Office, Cook County, Chicago, Illinois	ROCCO SALVATORE	9/23/61	Keeper of a book	Guilty - $200.00 fine

SALVATORE's arrest for bookmaking occurred during a raid on the Casa Madrid in Melrose Park. Arrested with him were [redacted] ALFRED F. GEHRKE, LOUIS R. DE TRAIN, ROCCO DE GRAZIA, and JOSEPH BATTAGLIA. b6 b7C

SALVATORE was also arrested on December 23, 1960, by the Bomb and Arson unit of the Chicago Police Department in connection with the murders of LESTER BELGRADE, FRANK DEL GUIDICE, and RICHARD FANNING. SALVATORE was never prosecuted for these murders and the details of any investigation conducted by the Chicago Police Department do not appear in the Chicago files.

In 1965, PCI [redacted] advised that SALVATORE is recognized as the outfit's representative in prostitution in the Melrose Park area and allegedly had two houses of prostitution operating in Melrose Park. b6 b7C b7D

In March, 1963, PCI [redacted] advised that SALVATORE has charge of all handbooks and wire rooms in Melrose Park.

On May 10, 1966, [redacted] advised that SALVATORE

[redacted]

On May 10, 1966, [redacted] advised that FRANK "SKIPPY" CERONE was the working or operating boss under SAM BATTAGLIA in the Melrose Park area and that SALVATORE had charge of all the handbooks and worked under CERONE. [redacted] was given a T symbol in the report in which the above information is contained.

During November, 1966, [redacted] advised that SAM BATTAGLIA relayed his orders to CHARLES NICOLETTI in Melrose Park, who in turn controlled [redacted] FRANK CERONE, and SALVATORE.

On March 13, 1968, [redacted] advised that SALVATORE was working closely with LOUIS EBOLI and that EBOLI was slated to take charge of setting up gambling games for SALVATORE.

On August 22, 1972, [redacted] advised that SALVATORE declined in status in the organization since the imprisonment of SAM BATTAGLIA and was not currently active. The informant pointed out that SALVATORE had not been observed in hoodlum hangouts for several years.

On August 1, 1973, [redacted] advised that SALVATORE was living in semi-retirement at his residence and was awaiting the parole of SAM BATTAGLIA. In order to contact BATTAGLIA in the "old days", a person had to go through SALVATORE. As a result of his power, SALVATORE became unpopular and was aware that when BATTAGLIA went away to prison, he had to avoid CHARLES NICOLETTI and JOSEPH AIUPPA. According to the informant, when BATTAGLIA returned from prison, SALVATORE would be restored to a position of importance.

On September 28, 1973, [redacted] advised that SALVATORE was presently living in semi-retirement and had not assumed an active role with the hoodlum element. SALVATORE was sponsored by SAM BATTAGLIA and on BATTAGLIA's death, SALVATORE's stature within the organized crime element diminished considerably. b7D

An effort to interview SALVATORE in 1975 was rebuffed by SALVATORE through his attorney, [redacted] b6 b7C

The investigation on SALVATORE was closed by the Chicago office in October, 1975.
